LIVING PROOF IT'S LIGHTNING PROOF! — The three lightning rods pictured below can be found atop the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, which has left them there for decor and possibly the next storm. They have probably been standing next to the metal sunflower decorations since 1884, when the original building was completed. The sale of lightning rods used to be big business. They were advertised as being able to channel lightning down to the ground when it would strike at your house, instead of allowing it to blow your home apart or set it on fire. The glass ball affixed in the middle of the rod served as a fuse. It would be broken if struck by lightning, so you'd know how the rod saved your life and your possessions. B.E. Kelley, curator of the Fayette County Museum, stated lightning rods went out of style around 25 years ago, because lightning was steering so clear from them, no one was sure they worked or not!

Debt ceiling, traffic delay linked

Demos move to block Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats are hurrying to block President Ford's energy program in the face of his renewed appeals for public backing and continued hard stand against gas rationing.

The Democrats are seeking to delay Ford's boost of oil tariffs, and they plan to attach a delaying measure to the bill that raises the legal ceiling on the federal debt. The House Ways and Means Committee opens consideration today of the debt ceiling measure, which Ford wants.

"The odds are probably more than even that the committee would combine the debt ceiling with the import duty bill," Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said Thursday.

The debt ceiling bill is considered virtually veto-proof since, without it, the government won't be able to borrow money after Feb. 18.

Ford, meanwhile, declared after signing a proclamation boosting the tariff by $1 a barrel Feb. 1 that a congressional delay would be "a backward step." He then told a nationwide television audience Thursday night that "it would have been a sign of weakness around the world" if he had failed to act.

He expressed confidence his action would spur Congress to move forward on his proposals, despite substantial opposition to them. And he made clear he favors strict limits on fuel supplies through an allocation program with rationing "the last resort" to curb oil use.

Seated on a yellow sofa in a White House sitting room, Ford made these other major points during the hour-long, televised and broadcast interview by two NBC correspondents: —He defended his statement that the United States might have to act if faced with economic "strangulation" by oil producers, because "I think the public has to have a reassurance, our people, that we are not going to permit America to be strangled to death."

—He said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is returning to the Middle East because of "a unique opportunity" to make progress towards a Middle East settlement, and that failure would probably force talks to be moved to the Geneva Conference.

—He defended his request for $300 million in additional aid for South Vietnam, saying U.S. officials feel that, with additional military and economic aid, "within two or three years, the South Vietnamese would be over the hump militarily as well as economically."

—He conceded that, if the nation still has inflation above 9 per cent and 7 per cent unemployment a year from now, "those are pretty tough odds" for his 1976 election hopes. But he said, "I don't think that is going to happen" and predicted, "We are going to rebound from this recession, and I think we will do it more quickly and in a better way than most pessimists say."

—He said he isn't bothered by the contention he isn't up to the presidency intellectually, declaring his grades in school show "there must be an awful lot of people much dumber than I."

—Asked what he would tell young Americans about U.S. justice when so many involved in the Watergate scandal are earning large sums from books about it, Ford said, "I think it will bother a good many Americans, young as well as old, and I don't have any answer." He added, "I wouldn't buy the books."

—He said "there have been admissions that there were some indiscretions or potential illegal actions" by the Central Intelligence Agency but he wants to wait for the report of the Rockefeller commission before discussing specifics.

In the television interview, he declared that despite repeated presidential and congressional statements about the nation's energy problems, "nothing has really been done to achieve conservation on the one hand or new supplies on the other."

When asked about rationing, which was endorsed Thursday by the AFL-CIO amid indications of increased congressional support, Ford said, "When you look at the impracticability, the inequities, in my judgment, gas rationing would not work."

In response to a question about the possibility of a strict allocation system, like the one last winter which resulted in long gas lines, Ford said that was a possibility if his plan doesn't work.

He said another oil boycott, possibly by non-Arab producers as well as Arab states, "would produce the necessity for more drastic action" but made clear that rationing "would probably be the last resort."

On Capitol Hill, meanwhile, the Ways and Means Committee heard Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon spell out the case for an increase in the debt ceiling limit, from the current temporary lid of $495 billion to a record $604 billion by mid-1976.

Delegates to attend PUCO hearing

Businessmen map plans to combat gas problem

By SANDY FOSSON

Approximately 50 Washington C.H. area industrial and commercial businessmen met Thursday afternoon to plan a course of action in combatting the present natural gas crisis.

The assemblage selected three delegates to attend a public hearing of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission in Columbus Monday. The hearing is to consider the authorization to the Dayton Power and Light Co. to assess penalties against industrial and commercial customers who surpassed their prescribed gas allotments.

WASHINGTON C.H. City Manager Dan Wolford, Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce executive vice president John Marcum and Lyle Ranson, president of Batjak, Inc., were appointed to represent the Washington C.H. community at the PUCO hearing.

The public hearing scheduled Monday with the PUCO is expected to be only a stepping stone to local businessmen concerned with the growing economic problem being created by the natural gas shortage.

The PUCO will consider DP&L's request to assess penalty cost of up to $1 per 100 cubic feet of gas used over allotments. The PUCO had granted a 90-day interim to assess such penalties by the DP&L but because the Federal Power Commission has allowed such penalty costs to be imposed by the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (DP&L's natural gas supplier), DP&L has requested authorization of the penalty costs on the same terms.

It is anticipated the PUCO will grant this penalty assessment to DP&L. Otherwise, according to Hugh S. (Bud) Patton and Glenn Hemsworth, who acted as co-chairmen of the Thursday meeting, DP&L would have to cut off all natural gas supplies because they could not pay the penalty costs imposed on them as a customer of the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp.

Although DP&L bills industrial and commercial customers for the penalty assessments, this money is sent directly to the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. as the cost to DP&L as a customer.

Hemsworth and Patton stressed the importance of all local non-domestic natural gas customers to push for immediate action from state and federal legislators to preserve local industry and employment.

Patton read from an article appearing in a Dayton newspaper in which U.S. Rep. William H. Harsha claimed the gas companies were faking the natural gas shortage.

"What happened to the trillions of cubic feet of reserves the gas companies advertised a few short years ago as abundant for generations to come?" Harsha questioned in the article.

Harsha, who has requested a full-scale investigation of the situation from the House Commerce Committee, said, "If those producers aren't giving us the true story then criminal action should be taken and the highest penalties leveled for the falsifications of natural gas reserve data."

Patton and Hemsworth distributed information including addresses and telephone numbers of state and federal legislators from the Washington C.H. area to contact for action.

"Write and phone these guys and impress upon them that it is their problem and tell them how many jobs are going to be lost if something isn't done," Patton said. "One thing they don't want to happen is have higher unemployment in their districts."

All the business and industrial customers attending the meeting stated they had received notices their businesses were over gas allocations.

Paul Elrod, president of Mac Tools, Inc., stated his company has been over the prescribed allotments for three months. He said if the company exceeded its allocation two additional months, he would be forced to shut down the plant because DP&L would discontinue gas service.

Mac Tools, Inc., is one of the 20 largest natural gas customers of the Dayton Power and Light Co. and the largest in a three-county area.

Patton emphasized the need to drive for an emergency allocation to industries such as Mac Tools in order to avoid rising unemployment in the area. He said that should the freeze on prices at the wellhead for natural gas be lifted, drillers would be encouraged to explore for additional supplies at the increased price.

He added that many people were under the misconception DP&L has imposed the natural gas allocations and higher prices.

The DP&L is acting under orders issued from its supplier, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., which is controlled by the Federal Power Commission.

Patton said the industrial and commercial customers of the Dayton Power and Light Co. are much more fortunate than industrial customers of Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc., which have mandated industrial customers to curtail natural gas usage to less than half of the 1972 consumption.

A DP&L spokesman explained the situation: Both DP&L and Columbia Gas of Ohio are subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. Both submitted their plans early in the season to the PUCO for curtailing their natural gas supplies according to reductions imposed by Columbia Gas Transmission Corp.

While DP&L included curtailments of both commercial and industrial customers (those customers where the natural gas consumption was not absolutely necessary for human welfare such as in the homes), the Columbia Gas of Ohio plan did not include curtailing commercial users. Therefore, they were required to request more reductions from the industrial customers.

WHILE DP&L commercial and industrial users have received reductions of 29 per cent of the 1972 usage, the industrial customers of the Columbia Gas of Ohio have been forced to curtail their supplies by 45-50 per cent of the 1972 consumption, resulting in mass layoffs and plant shutdowns.

Wolford said methods of conserving the natural gas locally are being made. While many businesses are installing better insulation and turning to alternate fuel sources, Wolford said the city is contemplating improving building permit requirements.

But regardless of the changes made on the local level, the solution to the increasing natural gas crunch will have to come where the power is concentrated at the state and federal levels. The PUCO hearing Monday is just a forerunner of the hearings in store.

Jobless benefits bill submitted for approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to sign his first legislative enactment since taking office today—a bipartisan bill extending unemployment compensation benefits from 26 to 39 weeks.

Rhodes received the bill from the Democrat-controlled legislature shortly after working sessions for the week ended on Thursday.

Aides said Rhodes' legal counsel wanted to go over some technical details, but expected it to be signed into law prior to a Jan. 26 federal deadline.

Ohio will get an extra $6 million in federal funds by acting now to provide 13 additional weeks of payments, averaging $75 a week, to some 20,000 Ohioans who have used up regular benefits.

The House received a total of 16 new bills Thursday, among them the $11.5 billion, two-year budget proposal of former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan.

House Finance Chairman Myrl Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, the measure's chief sponsor, and others termed it "a starting vehicle," in effect acknowledging that they expect to receive Rhodes' proposed budget around the middle of March. Shoemaker said Gilligan's original proposals had called for spending $11.9 billion, but that was trimmed before the bill's introduction.

Shoemaker called Gilligan's spending proposals, described in general terms in his final "State of the State" message Jan. 7, as a "hold the line" document except in the field of education.

The chairman noted it would allocate

High-fashion bulletproof clothing line being made

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A clothing firm in business since 1839 is ready to start manufacturing high-fashion bulletproof apparel for men and women.

Officials of J. Capps & Sons Ltd. say that the public soon may order, or be fitted for, an outer vest, a sports coat or jacket and undergarments — all bulletproof. Matching nonbulletproof trousers also can be ordered.

Costs for the attire — available in any color, plaids or checks — will range from around $120 to $250.

"We can incorporate bulletproofing in any type of garment, like overcoats," says Fred Gray, a vice president of the firm.

"We try to design things that are not noticeable — for use, for instance, by women or men who work in high risk areas, perhaps in banks, currency exchanges, and the like. If we can save one life we feel the project is worthwhile."

The bulletproofing is done with a supertough fiber called Kevlar. Panels of it can be removed when the clothes are cleaned. Weight ranges from 1 pound 9 ounces to 3 pounds and the company warrants its garments to withstand penetration by any handgun projectile except a .44 magnum. The commercial name is ProLife Apparel.

"ProLife looks so promising we are phasing out our everyday clothing line," says Gray.

Gray says law enforcement officials are "very much interested but there is some concern by them that bulletproof clothing will fall into the hands of criminals."

"But as it is, criminals can purchase practically anything they want — guns and knives. Our product would be ideal for use by VIPs or controversial figures who make lots of public appearances. In addition to handgun bullets, ProLife also provides a safeguard against a wide variety of sharp implements, including cleavers, dirks, butcher knives and straight razors."

Shoemaker said the measure was strictly a worksheet proposal at this point—"to be used only as a vehicle. The full committee hasn't seen it yet."

Shoemaker said the idea was to get some figures before the legislature so it could start budget work before receiving Rhodes' fiscal package.

"When his budget comes up here, I'll introduce it just like I did the one today," Shoemaker said. "We'll go from there, just like we always do."

"What we'll end up with," he said, "is a legislature budget but really they all are. We have more requests from legislators to get projects included than we do the executive."

Ford energy program expensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration says President Ford's proposals would increase the average family's energy bill 18 per cent, with the price hike showing up most in natural gas.

The FEA, in an analysis issued Thursday, said Ford's proposed energy policy — a combination of fees and taxes on energy with reductions of income tax — would increase consumer prices in general by about 2 or 2.5 per cent.

But the governors of 10 Northeastern states who met with Ford claimed that his program would add 5 or 6 per cent to the nation's inflation rate.

FEA Administrator Frank G. Zarb told newsmen his experts would meet with the governors' economists to try to reconcile the discrepancy.

Meanwhile, the FEA stuck to its own analysis, indicating that energy prices — as a proportion of family income — would put a bigger bite on the lower-income groups than the upper-income groups under Ford's plans.

But the FEA added that Ford's proposals for direct payments and tax reductions would more than offset energy price increases for all but those making more than $24,500 a year.

Analyzing regional impacts, the FEA said the Mountain States would feel the largest increase in average fuel costs, while the lowest increase would come to the East South Central region.

The President chose to increase energy prices as a method of discouraging consumption while encouraging investment in new energy production. In his Thursday night television interview, Ford said fuel allocations would be used if his pricing program fails to deter consumption and rationing would be a last resort.

Zarb said Thursday that it would take shortages like those of last winter's Arab oil embargo to make the administration consider rationing.

Nevertheless, the FEA spelled out how a rationing system might be set up, to show what it would mean.

The agency said the average motorist, who now uses about 50 gallons of gasoline a month, would be limited to about 36 gallons a month if rationing were used to cut consumption one million barrels daily, the President's goal for 1975.

Under rationing, commercial users would be allotted 90 per cent of the 1973 gasoline consumption, while 3 per cent of the ration coupons would be set aside for distribution by state governments to emergency or hardship cases, the agency added.

The system now drafted on paper would allow unfettered buying and selling of ration coupons. Those needing more gasoline could get it by paying a premium to those who would not need all their coupons.

The FEA estimated that coupons might sell for about $1.20 a gallon added to current prices at the pump; thus gasoline obtained with extra purchased coupons could cost the big-spending driver $1.75 or more a gallon.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrats offered their own version of a biennial budget Thursday, using former Gov. John J. Gilligan's proposals as an outline.

They called it a "hold the line" budget except for education.

Gov. James A. Rhodes must offer his spending proposals to the Democrat-controlled legislature by March 15.

The end result is expected to be a compromise between the two legislatures said.

The Democratic spending proposal, offered in the House by Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, Finance Committee chairman, calls for $11.5

billion to be spent over the two years beginning July 1, 1975.

Gilligan, in his State of the State message Jan. 7, suggested a budget of $11.9 billion. The current overall budget is $10.1 billion.

Howard Collier, Rhodes' director of the Office of Budget and Management, said work will begin on the governor's budget offer Feb. 1. Rhodes must submit a fiscal message to the legislature 45 days later.

"This is not a Gilligan budget or a Rhodes budget," Shoemaker said. "It is a legislature budget."

Under the proposal, Shoemaker said 57.5 per cent of the $5.7 billion allocated from the general revenue fund would be earmarked for education.

The state's operating money derives mainly from taxes. The rest of the budget comes from various sources, some from the federal government.

Shoemaker said $91.3 million had been pared from the Gilligan proposals to go into a supplemental appropriation for Ohio schools now before the legislature.

The supplemental money is to be drawn from a projected 1975 budget surplus certified at $80 million as of last month.

The Gilligan budget included the surplus projections, Shoemaker said.

Democratic legislators propose a boost of $1.4 billion.

Shoemaker said the measure was strictly a worksheet proposal at this point—"to be used only as a vehicle. The full committee hasn't seen it yet."

Shoemaker said the idea was to get some figures before the legislature so it could start budget work before receiving Rhodes' fiscal package.

"When his budget comes up here, I'll introduce it just like I did the one today," Shoemaker said. "We'll go from there, just like we always do."

"What we'll end up with," he said, "is a legislature budget but really they all are. We have more requests from legislators to get projects included than we do the executive."

Auto industry in massive sales push

DETROIT (AP) — Even though the sticker prices on new cars are not likely to fall, car buyers are starting to get big bargains from dealers and substantial rebates from the companies.

The sudden surge in discounting is an effort to end the sales drought which has plunged the industry into its longest slump since World War II.

American Motors is offering until Feb. 28 rebates of $200 on Hornets and Gremlins, $400 on some Hornets with special equipment and $600 on certain Matador models.

Ford and General Motors buyers will receive factory rebates of $200 or $500 on a number of small models until Feb. 28. Similarly, Chrysler is offering buyers rebates of up to $400 through Feb. 16.

The companies also are using the traditional sales incentive contests to help dealers sell new models.

Prices on new cars have risen some $1,000 in the past 15 months. Half that boost came on 1975 models when they debuted last September.

Sales incentive contests give dealers prizes or cash awards for meeting or surpassing designated quotas on specified models. Cash awards are often in the range of $25 to $100 per car.

Each year the car companies launch incentive contests during slack sales periods, but this time they started sooner, industry analysts say.

American Motors, which broke ground several years ago with an extensive one-year warranty, is offering a second free year on the warranty for a limited time. That amounts to a savings of $100.

Consumers who trade with dealers of some imported cars also can look for cash bonuses on some trade-in models and discounts on a variety of options, the analysts report.

In addition, Chrysler, a number of automotive suppliers and other firms are offering employees cash bonuses for purchasing new models.

The auto companies and dealers hope the various moves will boost sales, which dropped 23 per cent in 1974 compared with the record sales of 1973. Sales also are down from 27 to 52 per cent for the first part of January.

The biggest savings for shoppers appear to be coming from dealers, who are chopping hundreds of dollars off sticker prices to move their cars out of their crowded showrooms.

Associated Press reporters who visited several dealerships recently were quoted prices only modestly above estimated dealer costs.

A Chevrolet salesman asked $3,500 for a two-door Chevelle hardtop that carried a $4,124 sticker price, including select options and freight charges but not sales tax.

"I'm not going to make much commission on this, it's just about at cost. But we want to move it," the salesman said.

In many cases, the price discounts offered by dealers offset in full the increases put through on new models last fall.

Wall Street analysts say the wheeling and dealing will help move some cars, but won't bring the industry out of the doldrums.

"All the companies are moving into the discount business," says Richard L. Haydon of Goldman, Sachs and Co. in New York. "But the discounts will have only a modest impact on sales."

Arvid Juppel of Delafield and Childs in New York agrees and says the campaigns will stimulate sales only two to three per cent.

Industry executives say they can't afford to lower base prices for a limited, short-term gain. And, the fear of new price controls may be halting any significant decrease in base prices.

More important may be the belief among industry executives that a price rollback would not end the sales slump because it is the troubled economy, and not high prices, that is keeping buyers from the showrooms.

"Practically all cars are sold on time," says GM Vice Chairman Oscar Lundin, the firm's pricing expert.

"Now assume an individual would have to pay $125 a month to get a new car, and let's say we reduce the price to a dealer by $144. He (the buyer) would pay $121 a month versus $125. With all the consumer uncertainty we have, if an individual feels his job is in jeopardy, there's a serious question whether $121 is going to get him into the market compared to $125."

Price discounts aren't likely to go much higher, observers say, as car companies will soon begin to rely on the spring buying fever, rather than price incentives, to sell cars.

Jobless bill

$2.7 billion for elementary and secondary education, a 27.5 per cent increase, while higher education would receive $1.02 billion for a 30 per cent boost over the present two-year bookkeeping period. The state's biennium ends June 30.

Overall, the Gilligan proposal calls for a no new taxes, $1.4 billion spending increase from the present biennium.

Otherwise, the House recessed until a skeleton session Friday, when adjournment until 11 a.m. Tuesday is expected. The Senate adjourned until next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Aside from the Gilligan budget bill, House members presented new measures for:

—Adoption of rules for safety devices in high rise buildings.

—Eliminating the one-week waiting period prior to drawing unemployment compensation benefits.

—Providing a "bill of rights" for the mentally ill, similar to those already established for the mentally retarded.

—Reforming and toughening Ohio's drug abuse laws.

—Suspending state and local sales taxes on motor vehicle sales until Jan. 1, 1976, or until the unemployment rate dips below four per cent.

—Eliminating all types of discrimination in the extension of credit.

—Requiring reduced utility rates, including telephone, for Ohioans 62 and older.

—Reforming Ohio's adoption laws. Sen. Max H. Dennis, R-10 Wilmington, called in a new Senate proposal for authorization for local government officials to enter into contracts with fiscal experts.

Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze Jr., D-25 Cleveland, proposed in another measure that the state establish standards for and license speech audiologists.

Kissinger plans visit with Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and former President Richard M. Nixon will meet this weekend for the first time since Nixon resigned last August.

State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said Kissinger will visit Nixon at the former president's San Clemente, Calif., home. He said Kissinger had asked to see Nixon but did not say what would be discussed.

Kissinger, in California to address the World Affairs Council in Los Angeles, was planning to spend a few days with friends in Palm Springs, Anderson said.

Southeast has heavy rainfall

By The Associated Press

Rain and drizzle dampened the southeastern quarter of the nation today and snow or rain fell in scattered areas from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes.

Nearly an inch of rain soaked Macon, Ga., and similar amounts ranged into South Carolina. The showers extended from Louisiana eastward into Florida and north over the Carolinas.

Rain also sprinkled Oregon and parts of the Dakotas. Freezing rain iced sections of eastern North Dakota, and snow sifted into Minnesota and Montana.

A cold front rolling through the northern Rockies triggered high winds during the night. A gust of 81 m.p.h. rocked Livingston, Mont.

Fog cut visibilities sharply in portions of interior California, Texas, New Mexico, Florida and the middle Mississippi and western Ohio valleys. Clear skies favored much of the Southwest and a large part of the country from the central Plains to the Middle Atlantic states.

A January thaw held temperatures in the 30s overnight through most of the northern half of the nation outside the Rockies and the northern border states. The 40s reached into the central Plains. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 10 at Gunnison, Colo., to 74 at Key West, Fla.

Bank takeover bid by Arab opposed

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A Saudi Arabian multi-millionaire's bid to buy control of a San Jose bank has sparked a battle over conflicting ideas of freedom.

It's freedom to buy versus freedom of speech.

Adnan M. Khashoggi, 39-year-old California-educated head of the multi-national Triad Holding Corp., contends the issue is whether Arabs will have the same freedom to invest in American enterprises that U.S. firms have exercised throughout the free world.

Spokesmen for minority directors of the First National Bank of San Jose say Khashoggi has employed his vast wealth to use U.S. laws and courts to muzzle their First Amendment rights to argue against his takeover bid.

The struggle moved into Congress Wednesday when Rep. Fortney H. "Pete" Stark, D-Calif., who sold his Walnut Creek bank to Khashoggi in 1973, introduced legislation to restrict foreign control over U.S. banks.

Stark put in his bill after an out-of-court agreement Tuesday ended Khashoggi's U.S. District Court suit to bar dissident minority directors from soliciting proxies against his $14.1 million offer to buy 650,000 special shares in the bank. The bank has $310 million in assets and operates 24 San Francisco Bay area branches.

Under the agreement, the anti-Khashoggi directors were barred from publicly arguing against his offer other than saying that they still have doubts whether the "over-all long term effects of the transaction would be beneficial to the bank or its shareholders."

Khashoggi's attorneys had charged in court papers that foes of his offer had failed to make required filings with the comptroller of currency.

The intent of the proxy rules is to prevent misrepresentations to shareholders for or against a stock purchase offer. Opposing directors, who are small businessmen, discovered that they would quickly run out of finances in continuing a court fight at a cost of $3,000 a day in attorney's fees alone. And if the court Without action, the $495 billion ceiling will drop March 31 to the current permanent limit of $400 billion. But Simon said the $495 billion level will be surpassed Feb. 18.

In the Senate, 51 senators joined in sponsoring a resolution to block the tariff hike for 90 days. But Republicans have threatened to filibuster to prevent action on it.

In another Senate development, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., introduced their bill to require the President to institute a mandatory rationing program within 60 days.

Mansfield has said that, despite growing support for rationing, there are not enough votes to pass it now.

Natural gas plan approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has approved a plan to encourage industry exploration for natural gas within the state.

The PUCO agreed to allow industries seeking their own sources of natural gas to keep 75 per cent of any new sources found. Under present regulations, 50 per cent must go to the utility company that transmits the gas.

The plan was proposed Wednesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes as a means of giving industries the incentive to search for new supplies.

The commission said the new ruling would not affect contracts now in effect between General Motors Corp. and East Ohio Gas Co. or between Ford Motors Co. and Columbia Gas.

More feed grain planting set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers will boost plantings of feed grains this year from 1974 but all of the increase will be for sorghum and barley, according to a survey by the Agriculture Department.

Corn plantings in 35 states surveyed Jan. 1 will be about 76.1 million acres, a cutback of four-tenths of one percent from 1974. Oats producers also will scale down plantings to 17.3 million acres, a decline of four per cent, the department said.

But sorghum grain producers said they intend to increase 1975 plantings 10 per cent from last year to 19.4 million acres. And barley producers indicated they will plant 9.4 million acres, an 8 per cent increase.

In all, the four major feed grains will be planted on about 122 million acres in the spring, an increase of 1.4 million acres from 1974, the report said. The states surveyed account for more than

Gasoline rationing urged by big labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13.5 million-member AFL-CIO will use its lobbying muscle to urge congressional passage of a nationwide gasoline rationing program and an embargo on Arab oil imports.

Meeting Thursday in an "emergency session," union leaders rejected President Ford's energy program after AFL-CIO President George Meany endorsed rationing, saying such a plan would be "a small price to pay to avoid total economic collapse and to take America's destiny out of the hands of the Arab sheiks."

The AFL-CIO's general board, comprised of the presidents of all 110 affiliated unions, rejected the tariff plan as "nothing more than another excuse tax" which would hurt consumers by driving up the price of everything which uses or is made from petroleum.

Meany blamed much of America's economic woes on high-priced Middle East oil and said the nation "will continue to pay until the United States

West Germans fight inroads by Middle East

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The West Germans, having warded off Middle East control of their second largest automobile company, are girding against other attempts by the oil sheiks to take over prestigious and strategic industries.

Iran already owns a quarter of the Krupp steel works, and Kuwait has a 14 per cent share in the Daimler-Benz auto company. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi of Iran also ogled Daimler, but a German bank blocked him from buying into the producer of Mercedes cars, trucks and buses.

These stock dealings have raised a mild rash of industrial nationalism

Mid-month auto sales bounce up

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's depressed auto industry reported a significant rise in car sales during mid-January as it used cash rebates on selected new models to lure customers. But employment in the industry remained down.

Deliveries in the period from Jan. 11-20 increased 41 per cent from the exceptionally low levels of early January. They trailed year-earlier levels by 15 per cent and were the lowest for a mid-January since 1961.

"The rebates have just returned the industry to an average position considering the recession," said one industry analyst.

There is still a record 100-day supply of unsold models in dealer hands, and the auto companies have 11 plants shut and 228,000 of their 685,000 hourly workers on layoff this week.

Auto executives said Thursday that the companies' recent offers of rebates apparently spurred sales in mid-January. They said models covered by the discounts of $200 to $600 showed the biggest gain.

Sales normally rise in each succeeding 10-day period of a month as dealers bargain harder to meet end-of-month bills, but industry analysts said the typical increase is only 7 per cent.

Deliveries of 131,132 compared with 155,004 from Jan. 11-20, 1974, and 93,235 in early January, when sales were at the lowest level ever recorded for the period.

98 per cent of the nation's feed-grain production.

Soybean farmers, including many in the South who will switch from cotton, indicated they will boost plantings 8 per cent from 1974 to 57.1 million acres.

Don Paarlberg, director of economics for USDA, said the intended reduction in corn planting came as "somewhat of a surprise" but that he was encouraged by the over-all increase in the four feed grains.

Paarlberg told a reporter he was shocked by the indicated reduction for cotton. The report showed cotton plantings will drop 32 per cent from last year to 9.5 million acres.

Cotton producers have seen prices tumble sharply from year-ago levels as demand for the fiber by textile mills in this country and abroad has dropped off.

deals with the blackmailers in the manner that they deserve.

"No tribute, no foreign aid, no trade, no jet fighters — nothing until the blackmail stops," he said.

The AFL-CIO chiefs also adopted a broad "action program" intended to create jobs and stimulate the economy.

The program urged Congress to enact an immediate $15 billion tax cut for individuals, weighted in favor of low- and middle-income families with a maximum cut of $375 per return.

Also proposed was a $5 billion cut in corporate taxes by raising the investment tax credit for businesses from 7 per cent to 12 per cent; increased federal spending for public works projects; aid to the housing industry; broader unemployment insurance coverage; a bigger public service jobs program; a reduction of interest rates; and allocation of credit for high priority social and economic programs.

among business executives and Bonn government leaders.

Top bankers and industrialists have gotten together to map out an early warning system to guard against unwanted foreign investment in key West German industries.

Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's government welcomed the idea of this vigilante DEW Line Thursday but indicated it wanted more safeguards — probably legislation to give the government a veto over certain foreign stock acquisitions.

Schmidt summed up his government's misgivings when he told parliament last month that "we would not be happy if large and politically or strategically essential parts of our economy came under one-sided foreign control."

When the chancellor got wind of Iran's interest in DaimlerBenz, he threw the full moral weight of his government behind the vigilante blocking action of Franz Heinrich Ulrich, head of the Deutsche Bank, West Germany's largest commercial money institution.

The Friedrich Flick industrial group wanted to sell 29 per cent of the Daimler stock, and Ulrich

Cost of living increase slowing

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

The inflation eating away at the family budget has started to nibble more slowly: a gallon of gasoline costs less than it did in August; housing prices aren't going up so quickly; beef prices are actually coming down.

Government and industry statistics as well as Associated Press surveys show that prices generally are still higher than they were a year ago and are expected to rise even further. But the rate of increase is declining.

Among the encouraging signs: —The seven-tenths of a per cent increase in the Consumer Price Index in December was the smallest rise since July.

—The November-to-December increase in the average mortgage rate for new homes was the smallest since April.

—Industry figures show the average price of a gallon of gasoline has been declining since mid-Summer. The December average was almost 4 per cent less than the August figure.

—Heating oil prices are generally at or below the level they were a year ago.

—Real estate dealers say prices for land have leveled off in some areas and are increasing more slowly in others.

All these indications, however, come after a long period of steadily worsening inflation and recession.

—The cost of living rose 12.2 per cent during 1974, the steepest increase since 1946. Real spendable earnings — weekly pay adjusted for taxes and inflation — declined 5.4 per cent last year for the average married worker with three dependents.

—The average mortgage rate for a new home in December was almost 10 per cent higher than it was a year earlier; the median cost of a new, singlefamily house was nearly double the price 10 years ago.

—The December gasoline price was about 26 per cent higher than it was a year ago and President Ford's proposed fuel taxes and energy conservation program may mean another cost increase of 20 per cent or about 10 cents a gallon.

—The cost of No. 2 home heating oil in many areas is almost double what it was two years ago and new fuel taxes will mean an estimated 10-cents-a-gallon boost in this figure as well as in the gasoline price.

Pair charged with theft

An 18-year-old New Martinsburg man and a 15-year-old Washington C. H. youth were arrested Thursday afternoon by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and charged with petty theft.

Mark E. Smith, 18, and the Washington C. H. juvenile allegedly stole gasoline and batteries from Greenline Equipment Co., U.S. 22-E, in early January.

Sheriff Donald L. Thompson said information leading to the arrest of the two was uncovered by Sgt. William Crooks, while he was investigating another matter.

Smith was fined $150 previously assessed on another charge when he pleaded guilty Thursday to the charge of petty theft. A three-month jail sentence was suspended on the condition he make restitution of the money taken from the service station.

Judge Winegardner also fined a Washington C.H. man on a charge of hunting out of season.

Charles H. Wheeler, 37, of 1120 Yeoman St., was fined $50 when he was found guilty of hunting racoon out of season, as filed by state game protector Jerry F. Cremeans. Wheeler had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The irony of Vietnam

The stepped-up fighting in Vietnam poses an interesting anomaly for United States decision-makers as well as the public. This is especially so in light of Defense Secretary James Schlesinger's statement that the situation now is different than when the peace treaty was signed in January 1973. The matter is further ramified by another Defense spokesman's statement, in justification of U.S. violations of the treaty, that this is all right if one party to an agreement has already violated it.

The anomaly rests on how one views the original U.S. involvement in Indochina. There is much basis for the claim that we "slipped into" Vietnam more or less unwittingly - that there never was a real, hard-and-fast U.S. "national interest" at stake, and that the original fighting was in fact a civil war.

Until late in the war there was little evidence that regular North Vietnamese troops were engaged in combat in South Vietnam; certainly in the earlier stages there was not the "massive aggression" the State Department often referred to. In spite of this, the United States did become deeply involved.

The present situation is admittedly different. It appears that massive aggression from the North is building up. This in turn has stimulated rising pressure in Washington to increase military aid to Saigon. More ominously, Schlesinger has warned Hanoi that American opinion has "historically reacted in anger to outright aggression, unprovoked, massive attacks."

This chilling hint of possible reinvolved by American forces - a hint Schlesinger may not have intended, yet one implicit in his remarks - poses a grave question: Would Congress so soon allow American soldiers to fight again in Southeast Asia, no matter how massive the North Vietnamese attacks were? We think not. For while American opinion is volatile, the American people also have a memory.

One point which Vietnam strongly fixed in the American memory is that of what "Just a little more aid" can lead to. What it can lead to is more and more aid, and finally actual combat involvement. This admonition applies even more strongly to further reconnaissance flights or other "indirect" help.

Americans, remembering Vietnam, seem to be in a mood not to let this happen. In consequence the United States may soon find itself in the position of standing by while South Vietnam is overrun from the north. The irony is that this is just what our country spent 50,000 lives and billions of dollars over a decade futilely trying to prevent.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . By Marquis Childs

Mexico's oil rush is on VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico — From the northernmost slope of Alaska to the southernmost reaches of the hemisphere the oil rush is on. It is at the heart of the power game on which the future of the nation, the chance of war or peace, can turn.

Here in the capital of the state of Tabasco, and in the neighboring state of Chiapas, Mexico has come up with a large bargaining chip in the international oil game. While the great discovery here in the Southeast has been compared in its potential with the reserves of the Persian Gulf, officials of PEMEX are more modest. They equated with the Maracaibo fields in Venezuela, putting that country into third or fourth place as a petroleum exporter. It is rated bigger than anything in Texas or Oklahoma.

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Important decisions, research, experimentation are left to your discretion now. Therefore, everything must be carefully worked out BEFORE taking action.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Some intrigue still evident. Keep suspicion and involvement to a minimum. Go your sturdy way unaffected by pettiness or deception.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Especially favored now: Advancement in electronics, research, writing, intellectual pursuits, generally.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Dividends indicated from past good work and interest in progressive methods. There may be some complex situations but, with astute judgment, you can solve them.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly. And do not expect more than is reasonable.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Scattered efforts will confuse lead you off course. You can win big gains if you buckle down to essentials and STAY with them.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Maintain a business-like approach in serious matters without, however, taking yourself or others too seriously. Challenges indicated now should uplift, give you new ideas.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Wait for needed facts before taking action, but don't dally so long that you actually lose out on opportunities. Stress good judgment.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Consider results from past decisions or activities you intend repeating. If they were inadequate, strive to better your efforts this time.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You may experience temptations to dodge obligations, to "take off" on tangents. DON'T! This is a day in which you can only achieve through stick-to-itiveness.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
A day which calls for careful discrimination. Listen thoughtfully, observe, but do not read meanings into things not intended. Stars warn against hasty decisions.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Better-than-ordinary planetary influences. Take up the reins and drive straight, strong and with eagerness. Adhere to well defined procedures, however.

Production in the south zone, as denoted on PEMEX maps, is put at 450,000 barrels a day. Virtually all of this is new production coming from 56 wells in four separate fields.

This is said to be sufficient to cover Mexico's needs and leave a margin, when other producing fields are included, to make this country an exporter rather than an importer of petroleum. According to Antonio Dovali Jaime, director of PEMEX, the exportable surplus in 1975 will be 110,000 barrels a day.

This is far short of the card of admission to the Oil Exporting and Producing Countries OPEC. That card of admission is the export of 400,000 barrels a day and only Venezuela and Ecuador in Latin America qualify. But in the not too distant future Mexico cannot be ruled out. In fact a high government official told me that within two years Mexico would be perhaps the largest exporter in the hemisphere.

According to a source with every reason to know, the discovery is equal to that of the oil on Alaska's north slope. The latter is estimated publicly at 30 billion barrels and privately it is put as high as 80 billion barrels.

If the Chiapas-Tabasco proves out at anything like this, the bonanza should overcome Mexico's balance of payments deficit and bolster the domestic economy. This stroke of good luck comes for President Luis Echeverria an this hard-pressed administration at a fortuitous moment.

There is no question here of ownership by foreign exploiters. In 1938, under president Lazaro Cardenas, Mexico nationalized the holdings of U.S., British and Dutch oil properties, with compensation duly provided over a long period of years.

F.D.R. wisely resisted the clamor to intervene with force to restore the foreign owners. The government corporation, PEMEX, has, until recently, kept prices down below the market level as a subsidy to industry and the motorist. This has been an important factor in Mexico's large tourist trade with motorists from the United States. But prices are now sharply higher with widespread grumbling one result.

Whereas it once cost from $4 to $5 to fill the tank of a Chevrolet station wagon, it is now double that.

Mexico intends to take the lead in forming a Latin-American Oil Exporting Organization to control sales volume. While it will be some time before exports hit the 400,000 barrel a day level when Mexico can become a member of OPEC the government intends to send an observer to sit in on OPEC's meetings. The assurance given Washington is that while the price set by the OPEC cartel will not be broken by Mexico, the influence of Mexico's rapidly developing export surplus will be to try to modify the price quadrupled by the Arab oil producers.

This is a boom town that has some resemblance to boom towns in the great oil strikes in the United States. With 2,000 new workers, many bringing their families and more to come, the end of the boom is nowhere in sight. Housing is scarce, rents correspondingly high and prices beat even those in the cities where the pressure of inflation is so strong.

With the fierce heat and the heavy rains of summer, life here is far from pleasant. But as with booming communities everywhere, the hope of high wages and quick profits are a magnet despite the handicaps.

PEMEX has authority under its government charter over all oil exploration and development. One hitch here is the insistence of a powerful politico that no exploration can be carried out on his large farm which is in the center of the great discovery.

Governor's illness was a real rarity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes missed the first week of his new term because of illness.

For Rhodes, that's an all-time record. "You know I'm never sick," Rhodes told GOP State Chairman Kent B. McGough shortly before making his inaugural address, "but I'm sick now."

An aide said the days he spent at home were more sick time for Rhodes than he had in his previous eight years as governor.

Commerce Director Gordon Peltier says several workers transferred into the Consumer Protection Division in his department during the last week of the Gilligan administration.

Peltier thinks he knows why. A bill passed by majority Democrats during the opening week of the 111th General Assembly would transfer the entire division from commerce to the jurisdiction of Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown. That would save a few jobs that otherwise could be expected to change hands if consumer protection stayed in commerce, Peltier pointed out.

Burley tobacco market closing

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's only burley tobacco market closes after sales Monday. It is not open Fridays.

Sales Thursday totaled 78,790 pounds for $74,908.94 for a hundred pound average of $95.07.

Sales for the final full week totaled 530,668 pounds for $501,860.68, for a hundredweight average of $92.59.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Pants on wives grounds for divorce?

DEAR ABBY: I was in the Detroit airport when I read the item in your column about the husband who blew his stack because his wife purchased an overpriced pants suit.

Grannies in pants suits doddered by. Everything was in pants: males, females, and debatables. A courting penguin would have been hard put to decide where to drop the pebble in the standardized parade of bulging bellies and butts.

Stewardesses in britches walked by. (Why don't they hire bona fide boys in the first place?) No woman looks good in pants. Some only look worse than others. And that goes for Marlene in her tuxedo, too.

It has been said the success of a woman's costume is directly proportional to arousal of a man's desire to tear it off her. The pants mania thus confirms the suspicion that American women dress to impress other women-not men.

Pants on wives should be declared valid grounds for uncontested divorce, with reciprocal privilege in the case of mini skirts and hot pants on husbands.

I just had to tell someone.

MEL IN BELLEVILLE

DEAR MEL: I disagree. Some women look great in pants, but some look better than others. Granted, some women in slacks should not turn their backs, but the same can be said of some men.

I have bad news for men who hate pants on women. You are going to be seeing more and more of ladies' pants, and less and less of ladies' legs. Why? Because they're so comfortable, that's why!

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh at me, but when I grow up I want to be President of the United States. People say that you have to go to law school and become a lawyer first. Is that true?

RUSSELL IN HOUSTON

DEAR RUSSELL: No. But out of 37 presidents, 25 were lawyers.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 15 years, but I still consider myself to be MRS. JOHN JACKSON. My problem is: People still address mail (and especially Christmas cards) to MRS. JUNE JACKSON. This really makes me angry because it is my understanding that until I marry again, I am MRS. JOHN JACKSON.

My sister-in-law, who thinks she knows it all, told me that since John is not living, there is no MRS. JOHN JACKSON. Am I right? Or did women's lib change all that?

WHO AM I?

DEAR WHO: Socially, you are still Mrs. John Jackson. Don't blame women's lib for your sister-in-law's ignorance.

DEAR ABBY: That letter about the red hair reminded me of my own situation.

All during my childhood my grandmother used to tell me how much she hated red hair.

After I was married and expecting my first baby, I had two fears. One was that I would have twins. (They run in both families.) The other was that I'd have a red-headed baby. (My father-in-law was red-headed.)

When they told me I had a redheaded baby girl I thought they were kidding me, but when I saw that wrinkled, crying bundle with bright red hair I knew they were serious. I was so thankful that she had ten little fingers and ten little toes and was perfect in every way, I forgot about her hair.

Five years later I had a redheaded baby boy. He was perfectly healthy, too, which was cause to rejoice.

Both my children are standouts because of their red hair, and I suspect that people who "hate" redheads are secretly jealous.

Today In History

Today is Friday, January 24, the 24th day of 1975. There are 341 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
In 1848, a gold nugget was found in California at a sawmill being built for John Sutter near Coloma, California. The discovery touched off the California gold rush.

On this date—In 1830, the city of Venice was declared a free port.

In 1908, the first Boy Scout troop was organized, by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in England.

In 1915, the British defeated the Germans in a World War I sea battle off Dogger Bank in the North Sea.

In 1924, Petrograd was renamed Leningrad in honor of the founder of the Soviet Union.

In 1945, in World War II, Russian soldiers crossed the Oder River, reaching German soil for the first time.

In 1949, the U.S. Air Force organized "Operation Airlift" to try to save millions of cattle and sheep isolated by heavy snow on the Great Plains.

Ten years ago: Sir Winston Churchill died at his home in London at the age of 90.

Five years ago: Israel and Egypt were engaged in deep-ranging air attacks on each other's territory.

One year ago: The former head of the White House "plumbers," Egil Krogh, was sentenced to six months in prison on charges growing out of the burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

First Presbyterians 'rejoice' over 1974

"An Evening of Rejoicing" was held by the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church in Persinger Hall Jan. 19.
The "rejoicing" theme was given to the annual congregational meeting because 1974 was an outstanding year in the life of the church, said the Rev. Gerald R. Wheat.
During the year, the church membership grew from 690 to 739 communicant members and the budget for the year was oversubscribed.
Annual reports were given by Rev. Wheat, Mrs. Wheat as director of Christian Education, and the chairmen of the various boards and organizations of the church.
Mrs. Walter Coil was elected to a two-year term on the Board of Trustees to fill the unexpired term of John Boyer, who is moving out of town.
Certificates of appreciation were presented to Bill Carson, Alvin Dorn, Lowell Fichner and Mrs. James Wilson, who are retiring from the Session; Mrs. Richard Maddux and Edwin Thompson, who are retiring from the Board of Deacons; and Paul Crosby, Miss Marjorie Evans and David Looker, who are retiring from the Board of Trustees. All had served in these offices for three years.

Mrs. Harvey Heironimus, president of the Women's Association, also presented "honorary memberships" to Miss Marjorie Evans and Mrs. Clark Pensyl for their services during the year.

Gospel meet set

The Rev. Robert Hawkins of Centerville is holding a three-day gospel meeting today through Sunday at the Mt. Olive Road Church of Christ.
Services are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday, Bible Study at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and worship services at 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. Hawkins is a graduate of the Sunset School of Preaching, Lubbock, Texas, and has been minister for the Church of Christ in Centerville for the past three years.

He and his wife, Faye, are the parents of five children. The public is invited to attend, said the Rev. Lowell Williams, minister at the local church.

Ladies Lunch

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

IF YOU'RE ENTERTAINING your bride, canasta or backgammon club for lunch, feature something festive. Today's recipes have the advantage of being made-ahead. You can do the preliminaries beforehand, then pop them into oven or out of freezer in time for serving. They're deliciously different, and that's their virtue because lunch menus are often as dull as sandwiches. Don't let them be when the same ingredients can be combined with others for the entrees that are out-of-the-ordinary good:

Tuna sandwiches are delicious but so is tuna served in other ways. For a lunch that will rate raves make:

TUNA-NOODLE CASSEROLE

1 (4 ounce) can sliced mushrooms
Water
1 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon white pepper
1 can (7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
4 ounces fine noodles, cooked
1 cup soft cubed bread
Drain mushrooms; reserve liquid. Add water to liquid to make 1 cup. Add to evaporated milk.

In a saucepan, melt 2 tablespoons butter; blend in flour, salt and pepper. Stir in milk mixture gradually; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Add tuna, mushrooms and cooked noodles. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Melt remaining butter; mix in bread cubes. Arrange around edge of casserole. Bake at 375 F. for about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

One small can of crab meat is expanded with rice, celery, peanuts and eggs to make:

BAKED CURRIED CRAB SALAD

1 (7 1/2 ounce) can Alaska King crab or

1 (6 ounce) package frozen Alaska King crab, defrosted

1 1/2 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped peanuts
3 hard-cooked eggs, diced
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 tablespoons chopped chutney
2 teaspoons grated onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
3/4 cup mayonnaise
Parsley, for garnish

Drain crab, reserving a leg piece for garnish. Slice remaining crab with sharp knife. Combine crab and remaining ingredients, except parsley. Place crab mixture in buttered baking dish; garnish with reserved crab leg. Bake in a 350 F. degree oven 30 minutes, or until heated through. Garnish with parsley.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.
Here's a two-in-one luncheon dish—both a salad and a dessert. Serve it with coffee and cookies. There are sure to be requests, so make extra copies of the recipe for:

FROSTY SALADESSERT

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup pitted prunes, chopped
1/2 cup maraschino cherries
3 bananas, cubed
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange segments

1 cup whipping cream
Lettuce
Combine mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and cream cheese, mixing until smooth. Stir in nuts and fruits. Whip cream and fold into fruit-cheese mixture.

Spoon into 6 (1-cup individual molds or 1 (1 1/2 quart) mold. Freeze; unmold onto lettuce.

Makes 6 servings.
Note: Recipe can easily be doubled.

Corn bread topping pot pies

Chicken Pot Pie with corn bread filling

CHICKEN POT PIE WITH CORN BREAD TOPPING

Filling:

1/4 cup margarine
1 cup thinly sliced carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent Flavor Enhancer
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dried leaf marjoram
2 1/2 cups chicken broth
2 1/2 cups cut-up cooked chicken
1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans, thawed and drained

Corn bread:

1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
1-3 cup milk
1 tablespoon salad oil

To prepare filling, heat margarine in large saucepan. Add carrots, onion and celery. Cook over medium heat 5 minutes, until tender. Sprinkle with flour, Ac'cent, salt, pepper and marjoram. Blend well. Add chicken broth and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Stir in cut-up chicken and green beans. Turn into a 2-quart casserole.

To prepare corn bread, in a medium bowl combine cornmeal, flour, salt and baking powder. In a measuring cup or small bowl beat together egg, milk and salad oil. Stir into cornmeal mixture. Spoon cornmeal batter over hot chicken mixture in casserole. Bake, uncovered, in a 425 degree F. over 25 minutes, until topping is golden brown.

YIELD: 6 servings, approximately 45 cents per serving.

Book Places

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

ANYONE who collects books — and doesn't everyone? — knows that there comes a moment when you run out of book places. Where to house a growing library? Decorators have come up with some unusual and eye-catching answers to this question.

In the setting pictured, for example, interior designer Carl Fuchs faced a problem. The area designated for a bookcase was too small for a wooden one. It would have overpowered the wall. So Mr. Fuchs improvised. He picked up a group of old wire rabbit hutches, fitted them with wood shelves, sprayed them white and stacked them. The result is a lacy effect that gives the bookcase wall an airy look.

The hutches compliment the old-fashioned rolltop desk and the period look of the stairway was its old-fashioned square stairwell window. Because he wanted to emphasize the dark wood window frame, the designer decided not to use curtains. Instead, window dressing is an emerald green shade by Stauffer, hung reverse-roll. The shade pull, an old brass harness piece, adds to the heritage look.

The state of Ohio recently opened a foreign trade development office in Dusseldorf, West Germany, to help Ohio companies increase their share of the multi-billion dollar exporting market, according to the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development.

NEW YORK (AP) — A gent named Andy Rooney recently visited Washington, D.C., to study what it is they do there. The results are on CBS-TV Sunday night in a superb special called "Mr. Rooney Goes to Washington."

Rooney, a veteran CBS newsmen who says he had no prior knowledge of the way Washington actually works, approaches the beast with a child-like innocence heavily laced with the spirit of devility.

For example, he's curious about the number of government buildings in Washington. He asks the General Services Administration for a full list. They say they haven't one, but can prepare him one for $150.

So he forks over $150 and gets a list

Energy
is precious—
use it with care

Every winter, LANDMARK® delivers millions of gallons of heating oil and now it's vital that every gallon be used with care.

There are many ways to conserve fuel, and save money too. Closing drapes cuts heat loss thru windows, so does proper insulation, weatherstripping, storm doors and windows. Caulking shut the cracks and openings is a must.

Set your thermostat at a comfortable level and leave it there. Moving it up and down only makes your furnace use more fuel and costs rise significantly for every degree above 70. Close off unused rooms, keep attached garages closed. Use a humidifier; less heat is required for comfort if humidity is kept at 40 to 50%.

Have your heating system checked regularly, faulty or poorly adjusted equipment wastes fuel. Clean the air filters twice a year, lubricate motors and pumps. Look around home, you'll probably find other fuel-saving ideas. And for burner service, call us.

Farm Bureau launches membership drive

GOOD WORK, BEN — Ben Allen, left, receives congratulations from Dick Davidson, co-chairman of the 1975 Farm Bureau membership drive. Others pictured are Scott Kerns, Fayette County organizational director, and Jack Waddle, campaign co-chairman. Allen has signed 13 new members in addition to obtaining seven renewals.

The Fayette County Farm Bureau launched its 1975 membership drive during a meeting Thursday night in the Landmark auditorium, S. Fayette Street. More than 30 campaign workers attended.

Co-chairmen Dick Davidson and Jack Waddle urged a substantial gain over the 721 memberships in Fayette County last year. They said 89.3 per cent of Ohio's 1974 memberships of 61,631 have already joined even though county membership drives are just beginning. More than 55,034 Ohio families have already joined, including 2,353 new member families.

The Farm Bureau is a voluntary farm organization, with a purpose to increase farm income and improve rural standards of living.

Attending were area chairmen Mrs. Janet Sollars, Robert Case, Wayne King and Fred Gordon. Membership campaign workers present were Charles Duff, Julie Gordon, Anita Allen, Jim Paisley, John Gall, Jim Hobbs, John Farris, Hugh Wilson, Martha Garland, Robert Pero, Max Carson, Martin Smith, Jim McClure, Helen June Waddle, Ben Allen and Barton Montgomery, an Ohio Farm Bureau state trustee.

CAMPAIGN WORKERS unable to attend were Langdon (Corky) McCoy, Charles and Bessie Hiser, Edsel Davis, Clarence Cooper, Nelson Whaley, Glen Heistand, Carmen Bernard, Clyde Bower, Robert Garland, Fred LeBeau, Wayne Hidy and Norman Schiering.

Ben Allen is the leading membership worker as he has obtained 13 new members and seven renewals.

Refreshments were served by the women's committee of Mrs. Marge Schaefer, Mrs. Lois Duff, Mrs. Jane Lange, Mrs. Kay Ritenour, and the youth committee of Leah Welsh, Doug Welsh and Jim Cates.

Organizational director Scott Kerns issued membership materials and announced the timetable for the campaign progress reports.

Kirk Miller, the Ohio Farm Bureau's southwest regional supervisor, presented a slide presentation entitled, "Farm Bureau Makes a Difference."

The campaign will close Jan. 31. The new member meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 at the Terrace Lounge and recognition night for the campaign workers has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Feb. 10 in the Washington Inn.

4-H club roundup

By CATHY WHITE

4-H Assistant

4-H is for the family and the family is certainly one of the strongest structural fibers for democracy in America. When both parent and child take an interest in together activities, family unity and cohesion are the products which help build a better home.

What makes up a home? Some people may think it is wood, mortar, bricks, furniture and beautiful surroundings. However, others will agree that a house may be furnished with all of the best and newest of household furnishings but still it may not be a home.

Perhaps it's not the physical surroundings which go together to make a beautiful home. Maybe it's more of the spiritual and common bonds of love and understanding which flow within its various rooms.

The ideal type of home in 4-H work seems to be where the parents and children both share ideas which help in family planning. Home responsibilities for everyone in the family is certainly a bond which helps tie the family closer together in unity and understanding for one another.

4-H projects seem to help boys and girls and young adults become more responsible for home environment. They all learn skills which can help themselves in job vocations or education. What is even more important is that they can also gain wisdom which helps them better understand and resolve family problems.

Youth that are raised in homes in which 4-H work is a part of the family living have an advantage in life. "When parents are interested in 4-H and assist with family programs, the member gains a feeling of security." The member will have self-satisfaction because he or she will know that their parents support them all the way, both financially and morally.

The family unit or the home benefits from such a 4-H program. Deep down inside, the parents will know that they are helping to develop a feeling of "being wanted" for their children. The young people feel they are needed, and they are considered a vital part of the family unit.

Unquestionably, a feeling of wanted and needed are two worthwhile ingredients which help make up the better homes. The values of 4-H do help build stronger homes.

4-H LEADERSHIP HELPS PREPARE FUTURE ADULTS

Preparing youths for adult leadership roles is a prime goal of 4-H. And one way 4-H'ers prepare themselves for such responsibilities is through participation in the national 4-H leadership program.

Some 150,000 budding young leaders are active in the program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored by Reader's Digest.

The 4-H'ers gain valuable leadership skills and experiences serving as junior leaders and project leaders in their local clubs. They also assist younger members with their projects, help extension service personnel plan and develop new 4-H programs and organize community service projects.

Adding incentives and opportunities for recognition is Reader's Digest. The donor provides a full schedule of awards including up to four medals of honor for county winners and an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Dec. 1-5, for a top young 4-H leader in each state. At the 4-H Congress, twelve national winners will be announced with each receiving a $600 educational scholarship courtesy of the Digest.

In addition, the top 4-H boy and girl in the program receive an engraved silver tray presented in the name of The President of the United States.

The two 1973 Presidential Award winners in 4-H leadership, Charles Rivara, of Ripon, Calif. and Carol Byrd, of Merritt Island, Fla. took an active role in 4-H activities and programs in their home communities.

To Rivara, 4-H leadership "combined everything I learned in eight years of 4-H", the 19-year-old served in many 4-H leadership roles including service as assistant director of the State Fair 4-H Steering Committee, which organizes and runs the 4-H portion of the fair.

Working with younger youths was among Carol Byrd's 4-H leadership activities. Miss Byrd, 18, taught sewing to 45 younger girls. With her assistance, nearly all received top placings in local competition. She also performed in various capacities in her county and state 4-H councils, and also found time to teach youths with learning disabilities, using a reward and incentive system of teaching.

Circleville can clinch SCOL

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer

With the 1974-75 basketball season rapidly coming to a close, the Circleville Tigers can clinch first place in the South Central Ohio League race Friday with a win over Greenfield McClain, the second-place ballclub.

This week finds Hillsboro in third place behind the leaders with Washington C.H. in fourth. Deadlocked for fifth are Unioto and Miami Trace with Wilmington in possession of the cellar.

Circleville will be seeking to win their thirteenth game in a row this year, and Greenfield will try to upset them in hopes of getting a part of the SCOL crown. Those hopes are dim, however, because McClain is down three full games with just four league games to play.

The Tigers possess immense strength and depth this season, having four starters averaging in double figures. Leading the Circleville charge is Harold Reed, third overall scorer in the SCOL and second leading scorer in league games, with a 16.8 average.

Also producing double digit games are George Moore, Perry Hoskins, and Biff Bumgarner. Moore has been scoring 15.3 points per contest, Hoskins, 11.3 tallies a game, and Bumgarner, 10.5 a game.

Circleville also owns the best ofensive and defensive averages in the SCOL. They average 71.4 points a game while giving up just 53.8 each game.

Greenfield has lost three of its last four league encounters and are the only team that has a chance to beat out Circleville, but only if the Tigers lose their remaining league games while McClain wins all of theirs.

Leading the Greenfield Tigers in scoring is 6-foot-2 junior Steve Harvey, who carries a 15.6 average into this week's competition. Also averaging in double figures is Bill Flynn with a 15.0 point average. Flynn scored 28 points in last week's loss to Hillsboro.

In other league action, Washington C.H. visits Unioto, Wilmington travels to Hillsboro, and Miami Trace hits the road for a non-league encounter with Columbus Bexley.

The two top overall scorers in the SCOL get together in the Blue Lion-

Sherman game. Greg Alcorn is leading the league for Unioto with an overall average of 18.7 points. Right behind him is Washington's Chuck Byrd with a 17.3 point production.

The Tanks have two other starters averaging in double figures. Jeff Throckmorton pours in 15.5 markers every game and Steve Frey pops in 11.3 a game.

Court House's other starter in double figures is 6-foot-3 Doug Phillips. He presently pumps through 14.8 points per ballgame. Washington C.H. won the first meeting between the two schools this year, and has never lost to Unioto.

Wilmington gained what it had been lacking the entire season last week in shocking Miami Trace. Freshman Gary Williams tore up the court en route to a 20 point, 21 rebound performance. Williams edged into double figures last week and now averages 10.3 points a game.

Hillsboro, mathematically, still has a chance to tie for the league crown but it would take nothing short of a miracle for that to happen. Leading the Indian charge are Mike Sharkey and Tim Fuller. Sharkey is averaging 16 points a game and Fuller scores 12.2 a contest.

Meanwhile, Miami Trace takes the week off from SCOL duties and travels to Columbus to play Bexley. Leading the Panthers in scoring is Allan Conner with an 11.2 point average. Also in double digits consistently is sophomore Dan Gifford, carrying a 10.7 mean.

Saturday night finds three SCOL teams in action when Madison Plains visits Greenfield, Unioto entertains Zane Trace, and Wilmington travels to Clinton Massie.

Tuesday evening finds East Clinton at Hillsboro and Franklin at Wilmington.

OSU prepares for Illinois clash

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Fred Taylor looked at his surprising Ohio State basketball team's fourth place spot in the current Big Ten standings.

The Buckeyes were considered definite second division material. One writer even forecast them for a last-place finish in the conference.

Preparing for invading Illinois Saturday night, Taylor said, "It ain't how you're picked. It's how you finish."

The Buckeyes swept a pair of road games at Wisconsin and Northwestern last weekend to surge into fourth place with a 4-2 record. Illinois is tied for seventh at 2-4.

"The best thing," said Taylor, "we won on the road under some difficult circumstances. Larry Bolden was upset (his mother died last Friday) and Steve Wenner, our first line replacement, couldn't even make the trip."

Wenner, in fact, is doubtful for the Illini, still hobbled by a sprained ankle. And his freshman replacement, 6-foot-6 Terry Burris, has had the flu this week.

Ohio State will risk a four-game winning streak against the Illini, a team with two scoring threats, 6-6 forward Rick Schmidt and 6-6 guard Ortho Tucker. Schmidt averages 22.2 points, Tucker 14.2.

New Illinois Coach Gene Bartow probably will use 6-4 Nate Williams, 6-8 Rich Adams and 6-4 freshman Audie Matthews as the other starters.

Taylor will use his same lineup, led by 6-7 Bill Andreas, No. 1 in Big Ten scoring with a 22.5 conference average. The other Buckeye regulars will be Craig Taylor, Andy Stiegemeier, Mark Bayless and Bolden.

Illinois played Tulane Thursday night, but the crowded schedule failed to ruffle Bartow, the Memphis State coach last season.

"The fact we have only one day to prepare for Ohio State doesn't concern me," said Bartow. "We can get done what we need to in that length of time."

Ohio State has a 10-6 overall record and Illinois was 6-7 going into the Tulane game.

In other key Ohio college action Saturday, Miami and Heidelberg risk their conference leads on the road.

Miami's stunning Redskins, expected to be Mid-American patsies, are pacing the conference with a 4-1 record. They

MT takes 1-point victory

The Miami Trace High School freshman team surged to a huge lead early in their game with Madison Plains Thursday and then hung on for a 37-36 victory. Their season record now stands at 6-3.

After displaying a man-to-man press which worked wonders early in the game, Miami Trace led 12 to 1 at the end of the first frame. The second quarter looked like a repeat of the first as Madison Plains was held without a field goal until there was less than five minutes remaining in the half. At that point, however, the Golden Eagles turned hot and narrowed the score to 18-13 at the intermission.

Plains narrowed the gap to one point at the end of the third quarter, but clutch free throws by Kevin Stockwell and Bill Hanners during the final two minutes allowed the Panthers to retain a small lead. The Golden Eagles scored a basket at the buzzer to narrow the final score to a one point.

David Glass and Hanners led the team in rebounding with nine and eight 'bounds respectively.

Wayne outscored Jeffersonville 3-2 in the overtime period to eke out a 36-35 victory. After jumping out to an early lead of 12-4, Wayne enjoyed only a one point lead at the half. The score was tied at the three-quarter mark, and both teams scored seven points in the final frame, setting the stage for the additional period.

Two other junior high games were played Thursday at Bloomingburg's gymnasium. The host team downed Madison Mills 28-24 and Ebert topped New Holland 61-49.

Mark Dunn led the charge for Wayne with a 17 point performance while Steve Higgins and John St. Clair had 14 and 10 points respectively for the losers.

Wittenberg, favored to win the Ohio Conference laurels, can move into a share of the lead with Heidelberg by beating the visiting Princes. Heidelberg is 5-1, Wittenberg 4-2 in the league.

UCLA invades Irish homeland

By The Associated Press

UCLA's basketball team returns to the scene of the crime Saturday and John Wooden isn't afraid of getting nudged.

"That's just another ballgame for us," says the UCLA coach while looking forward to meeting Notre Dame at South Bend, site of last year's dramatic 71-70 loss that ended the Bruins' record 88-game winning streak.

Wooden, whose fourth-ranked team beat UC-Santa Barbara 104-76 Thursday night, insists that he feels little emotion about the upcoming game at the Fighting Irish stronghold.

The teams met earlier this year in Los Angeles and UCLA rallied from a 19-point deficit to beat Notre Dame 85-72.

"I think we proved we could stay with UCLA by playing as well as we did in Los Angeles last month," said Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps, giving more public thought to the upcoming game than his opposite number.

In the only other game Thursday night involving a ranked team, No. 2 Louisville defeated St. Louis 78-70.

Rich Washington scored 20 points and Dave Meyers had 19 to lead UCLA's easy victory over UC-Santa Barbara. Two Bruin rallies in the first half put the game out of reach of the Gauchos, who trailed 50-30 at halftime.

Bill Bunton and Phillip Bond combined for Louisville's final 10 points and guided the Cardinals over St. Louis.

Seniors Allen Murphy and Junior Bridgeman scored 20 points apiece for Louisville, which trailed through much of the opening half before resting on a 39-37 lead at intermission.

McKinney scored 20 points and Billy Morris 14 for St. Louis, 6-7. Louisville owned a 41-32 bulge in rebounds and outshot the Billikens 50.9 per cent to 43.5.

Italians victorious in Monte Carlo race

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Italians Sandro Munari and Mario Mannucci, driving their streamlined Lancia Stratos with absolute precision, won the 43rd Monte Carlo Rally today having dominated the classic from start to finish.

Delirious Italian fans mobbed the pair as they crossed the finish line on the Monaco harbor front, repeating the scenes that greeted Munari and Mannucci in 1972 when they scored Italy's first post-war victory in the event.

Miller falls off pace

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller got a chuckle on the first tee.

"As soon as I hit my drive, the first shot in the golf tournament, some guy in the gallery yells at me, 'Boy, what's wrong? You're still even par.'"

But it was the last laugh he had. There were no more giggles.

The runaway, record-setting winner of the Phoenix and Tucson Opens had to work hard over the toughest holes on the course to salvage a one-under par 71.

And that left Miller in the unaccustomed posture of trailing the leaders. He's five shots back of Hubert Green and Larry Ziegler, tied with 66s after Thursday's first round in the $185,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

It is the first time this season, the first time in nine rounds, that Miller has failed to lead or share the lead. It's the first time he's shot in the 70s.

But the pollyanna guy with the whiplash swing found the bright spots.

"At least I didn't get in position where I'm blown right out of the tournament," he said. "This was just a bad round. Maybe the rest of the week will be better."

Jack Nicklaus, who proclaimed a massive indifference to Miller's progress, also had a 71 in the brilliant sunshine that bathed Cypress Point.

one of three par-72 courses being used for this unique event on the picturesque Monterey Peninsula.

"I didn't know what Miller was doing until I finished my round," said Nicklaus, whose position as the game's premier performer has been challenged by Miller's recent spectacular exploits. "I'm not concerned with him if he isn't leading the golf tournament."

Two strokes back of the leaders were Ross Randall, Andy North and veteran Gene Littler, tied at 68. Randall and North played Cypress, Littler was at Spyglass.

The 69 by Cesar Sanudo was the low score at Pebble Beach, the seaside links layout that will serve as the site for the final round Sunday.

Ex-Brown takes over K.C. Chiefs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Paul Wiggin has always concentrated on defense. Now, though, he finds himself thinking about offense.

Wiggin, defensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers, was named head coach of the National Football League's Kansas City Chiefs Thursday. He is only the second coach the Chiefs have ever known, succeeding Hank Stram.

The dapper Stram, known for his attire and the rolled-up program he wielded as he strutted along the sidelines, directed the team from its inception as the Dallas Texans of the American Football League in 1960, until last Dec. 27, when he was fired after a dismal 5-9 season.

Wiggin, 40, said he knows "what people will think when they hear a defensive man has been selected. It'll be, 'Here comes 0-0.' I'm aware of that."

"But we've got this division. We're talking about to score, especially in Oakland and Denver and the big offenses they have. I cannot tell you how we're going to do it but we'll do it."

"I've got — and you can emphasize that in capital letters — to get an offensive coordinator who can do the job."

The announcement of Wiggin's appointment was made at a news conference by Lamar Hunt, owner of the Chiefs, after nearly a month-long search. Wiggin was signed to a three-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Eighth grade beaten 49-35

The Washington eighth grade team lost Thursday to Greenfield by a 49-35 score. It was the junior team's sixth consecutive loss.

The localities were led by Fred Jones who had 13 points and Steve Pritchett who had eight tallies. John Cannon and Randy Seldon led Greenfield with 15 and 12 points respectively.

Greenfield rushed to a nine point lead at the end of the first quarter as Washington was held to just two points. Ten points remained the difference in scores throughout almost the entire game until Greenfield opened it to 14 near the end of the contest.

U.S. schedules big birthday events

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Writer

From the surface of Mars to the shores of Tahiti, the United States is celebrating its 200th anniversary with what promises to be the biggest, not to say most unusual, birthday party ever. An American Revolution Bicentennial Administration catalogue lists nearly 3,000 observances, productions and projects that have ARBA sanction and the organization promises more.

Among them is event 001975, the soft landing of an unmanned Viking space craft on Mars on July 4, 1976. Event 000354 is a more modest but still ambitious journey: a crew of 24 expects to complete a two-month paddle from Hawaii to Tahiti in a wooden Polynesian canoe the same day Viking touches down.

To be sure, there is a surplus of more conventional activity. Restorations for example. It seems that nearly anything that stands still, and several that don't, are preservation candidates.

Among the things Americans are reclaiming: railway depots, trains, log cabins, taverns, inns, villages, forts, covered bridges, cemeteries, missions, mansions, adobes, jails, churches, barns, meeting houses, townhouses, opera houses, school houses, milk houses, round houses, stagecoach houses, fire houses, an Indian winter pit house and George Washington's summer house.

Also: a company store, a water wheel, a mint, a market, a canal, a hardware store, a blacksmith shop, Washington's grist mill, a pipe organ, paintings, a corn crib, sailing ships and an island.

Hundreds of books and pamphlets will be published, mounds of film shot, miles of markers erected, scores of symposia symposed, forests planted (1,776 trees in Brea, Calif. alone; dramas written, recollections recorded, exhibits exhibited, and battles restaged.

And, by a rough count, there are enough fife and drum corps being outfitted to fill Carnegie Hall.

It being a patriotic occasion there is heavy emphasis on flags. A South Dakota group wants to assist each farm family in the state to fly the flag every day. In frozen Alaska, a Seward group is erecting a "free standing concrete monument" of the state's ensign. On display in Flint, Mich., will be 200 examples of Native American art, each bearing a flag or patriotic motif.

Perhaps the most encompassing flag project is in New York City. It's described as: "The Flag as art. Open competition, exhibit in any medium, earthworks, planting a flag of flowers, wrapping public buildings in bunting."

Plan new drive against terrorism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The chief United States delegate to the United Nations says he's going to launch a new drive for international action against terrorism now that the French government is upset about the situation.

After more than two years of cold-shouldering U.S. efforts to get U.N. action against hijackers and other terrorists, France's pro-Arab government had a change of heart this week when Arab terrorists held 10 French people hostage overnight in an Orly Airport restroom. Interior Minister Michel Poniatowski called for "an agreed international position that would permit the punishment of terrorist-killers."

U.S. Ambassador John A. Scali said in an interview that Poniatowski's remarks "clearly reflect a growing revulsion in the Western world to the use of terror tactics to achieve political ends."

"We will be discussing with the French and other governments what steps we can take to give some sort of concrete meaning to this," Scali continued.

"As you know, this is an issue that we have faced before where other nations have declined to support those who believe that terrorism has no place in the civilized societies."

After the 1972 Arab massacre of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics, Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim put international terrorism on the agenda of the U.N. General Assembly, and the United States proposed an international treaty providing for the prosecution or extradition of terrorists who escaped to another country.

African and Arab delegations, fearful of a curb on liberation movements, sidetracked the treaty proposal, and the assembly set up a committee that met the next year and could not agree on what to do.

The 1973 assembly postponed debate on terrorism until the 1974 assembly. The 1974 assembly postponed it again, until the 1975 session.

"Any action which could be agreed to on an international level is something we could support," said Scali.

Gold theft investigated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—University Circle police were questioning everyone who handled $11,264.88 worth of gold missing from Case Western Reserve University, authorities said Thursday.

The processed gold wafers arrived by mail wrapped in brown paper last week, detectives said. The gold, bound for University Hospital dentists, was signed for and left for a receptionist.

Police said it disappeared before she returned.

Reporters at the university newspaper, The Observer, said they discovered gold has been routinely delivered to the school by mail for years. A spokesman for the school said procedures have been tightened.

Soviet citizens grumbling about winter weather

MOSCOW (AP) — Little boys are grumbling because the hills are bare and there's no new snow for sledding. Their parents are convinced the warm weather is responsible for the flu that's spread through Moscow like wildfire.

"It's absolutely the worst winter I can remember," muttered one middle-aged Muscovite.

According to Intourist, the Soviet tourist agency, winters in the Soviet Union are "fairlylike, with bright sunshine, sparkling snowflakes and dry frost."

Not this year.

"The weather in the middle of winter looks more like April," complained Tass, the official Soviet news agency. "Moscow citizens these days are faced with an unusual dilemma: whether they should change from their fur coats into rainproof overcoats. Instead of January frosts and snowstorms, there is wet snow, intermittent with rain."

For several days in early January, the temperature in Moscow dropped to a few degrees below zero Fahrenheit. But the rest of the month it has hovered around the freezing point. The low teens is usual for January.

Tass said Leningrad, 450 miles north of Moscow, is having its warmest winter in 100 years. In southern Siberia, usually a land of forbidding cold, spring showers fall and flowers blossom.

This is the third mild winter in succession with comparatively little snow. But little children are still bundled up as tightly as ever, with so much clothing and headgear that they look like fat little balls.

Mikhail A. Petrosyants, director of the Soviet Hydrometeorological Center, said the warmth was caused by a massive invasion of warm air from the Atlantic Ocean and Mediterranean.

But the weathermen advise that all hope should not be lost. They say February should bring "Arctic cold" and that temperatures in Moscow will plunge to 15 degrees below zero.

Eagle Scout Recalls Days With Ford

By CAROL RUMMEL
Port Huron Times Herald
PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — The summer of '29 holds a lot of memories for Joseph K. McIntosh, 62, of Port Huron.

That summer he was one of eight Michigan Eagle Scouts appointed by then Gov. Fred W. Green to be guides at Mackinac Island's Fort Mackinac.

His companion for a month was a Scout from Grand Rapids, Gerald R. Ford, then 15, now President of the United States.

"I was always paired off with Jerry," recalled McIntosh, who was 16 in 1929. "He wasn't an introvert, but was on the quiet side. I was a lot like him."

McIntosh still has his scrapbook showing pictures of himself and Jerry together on the island.

He suspects their common love for football and other sports drew them together. Both were centers on their high school teams, Ford at Grand Rapids South and McIntosh at Port Huron St. Stephens.

"Jerry brought his football along with him that summer," McIntosh said. "We would practice whenever we had a chance. He was much better than I, but I wasn't bad."

McIntosh went on to play for Notre Dame and Ford for the University of Michigan.

Swimming in the Straits of Mackinac occupied a lot of the Eagle Scouts' leisure time that summer.

But there was one activity Ford didn't join.

"I don't recall him having a date the whole time we were there," McIntosh said. "There were lots of girls from colleges working on the island. A couple of the guys were ladies' men, but Jerry wasn't like that."

McIntosh says he has good recollections of Ford from those days 45 years ago.

"He was a good, clean-minded, considerate individual," he said. "I can say that from the heart. He was a leader, good looking and a real athlete."

One time the boys took a ferry to the Upper Peninsula, where they joined a friend of the McIntosh family, James Callahan Sr., aboard his tugboat.

"I still remember the beautiful trout we had for dinner that night," McIntosh says. "We ate in the ship's galley."

But August ended and the boys parted. McIntosh isn't quite sure why they never communicated again.

He tried once, when he went to a football game at Michigan. "He had just gone home to Grand Rapids a few minutes before I got there," McIntosh said. "I never saw him again."

The impact of the summer with his buddy Jerry didn't really hit McIntosh until August when Ford moved into the White House.

"I still think of him as the individual I knew then," McIntosh said. "I'm quite sure he hasn't changed a lot."

"Politically, we're poles apart," he said. "More often than not, I'm a Democrat."

"If he were to walk in here right now, we probably wouldn't have much in common other than our experiences on Mackinac Island that summer."

Slippery roads blamed for mishaps

Four of the eight accidents reported today by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department were blamed of frost-covered roads. The Washington C.H. Police Department reported three accidents, in which two people were injured and three persons cited.

SHERIFF
The following three accidents occurred on Monday and were reported by deputies today:

9:30 p.m. — A Great Dane dog belonging to Eddy Ivers, 2855 Worthington Rd., was killed when hit by a car driven by Mahlon M. Smith, 39, Mayslick, Ky.

Sheriff's deputies reported the dog had run at Smith's auto while he was traveling on U.S. 62, one-tenth mile north of Stafford Road. His auto was moderately damaged.

2:50 p.m. — Cars driven by Mary K. Shirkey, 27, Jeffersonville, and James L. Cook, 27, Jeffersonville, collided at the intersection of West Lancaster Road and old U.S. 35. Cook was cited for failure to yield right of way.

11:09 a.m. — A car driven by Vivian B. Gool, 59, Springfield, passed a car driven by Darrell B. Hanson, 28, of Superior, Wis., (which was towing a U-Haul trailer at the time) as Hanson was making a left turn on Ohio 41-N, near the Ohio 734 intersection.

The Gool car struck the left fender of the U-Haul trailer and propelled the car and trailer into a stone column belonging to Lowell Douce, of 9434 Ohio 41-NW, causing it to crumble.

No one was injured or cited in the accident.

The following four accidents were caused by slippery, frost-covered roads, which were present in Fayette County last night and early today.

FRIDAY, 6 a.m. — A car driven by Elmer R. Hurler, 20, Jeffersonville, slid on a curve on Jeffersonville-West Lancaster Road, one-half mile east of West Lancaster Road and struck a fence owned by Mrs. Howard Allen, 10 Willis Court. Damage to Hurler's car was minor.

1:40 a.m. — A car driven by Mary M. Gilmerr, 53, Greenfield-Sabina Road, slid off the left side of Greenfield-Sabina Road, two-tenths of a mile east of U.S. 62, and into a fence belonging to Herbert Burton, 2278 Greenfield-Sabina Road. Damage was moderate.

THURSDAY, 11:25 p.m. — A car driven by Stanley A. Mercer, 21, Greenfield, slid into a mailbox belonging to Howard Pinkerton, 59, Bloomingburg-New Holland Road-NW, while traveling on Bloomingburg-New Holland Road, two-tenths miles west of Prairie Road. Damage to Mercer's auto was moderate.

9:25 p.m. — A car driven by Albert R. Groves, 26, Sabina, slid on a left curve while traveling south on Haines Road and struck an embankment. Damage to the auto was slight.

6:15 p.m. — A car driven by Peggy S. Spence, 16, Sabina, slid, an auto driven by Gary D. Mount, 24, of 317 Gibbs Ave., while Mount was traveling west on U.S. 22, 200 feet east of the Cline Road intersection and she was backing from a private lane onto U.S. 22.

Damage to both autos was moderate, but there were no injuries, nor citations.

POLICE

FRIDAY, 3:55 a.m. — A car driven by Howard A. Temple, 33, of 708 Second St., slid into a Dayton Power and Light utility pole at the corner of Washington Avenue and Worley Street, when he accelerated sharply.

Police said Temple showed visible signs of injury at the accident scene, but refused treatment. He was cited for reckless operation.

THURSDAY, 7:50 p.m. — Cars driven by Arnold R. Lewis, 25, of 1024 E. Paint St., and Joey E. Phillips, 29, of 219 Sycamore St., were severely damaged when they became involved in an accident at the intersection of North and Market streets.

Phillips was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital for a laceration above his right eye.

Lewis was charged with failure to yield right of way.

4:40 p.m. — A rear-end collision involving cars driven by Roxy J. Clay, 19, of 1028 Broadway, and Connie L. Russell, 18, of 713 John St., occurred on Columbus Avenue, in front of Carroll Halliday, Inc.

Ms. Clay's car was moderately

Book by Ford sells for $300

NEW YORK (AP) — A book coauthored and inscribed by President Ford when he was a congressman brought $300 at an auction by Charles Hamilton Galleries at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Thirteen lots of letters signed by Ford went for a total of $665 at the Thursday night event.

The book, "Portrait of the Assassin," was written with John R. Stiles in 1965 and deals with Lee Harvey Oswald. Ford made a spelling mistake in the inscription: "Warmest personel regards."

damaged and Ms. Russell's auto was severely damaged, but neither driver was injured.

Ms. Russell was cited for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

Bones discovered in Seattle believed those of little girl

SEATTLE (AP) — Police believe the 11-month nationwide search for little Heidi Peterson has ended in a brushy area about a block from her home.

Park Department employees retrieving a garbage can from a hill Thursday afternoon found bones of a child and clothing matching that of the missing girl. Authorities said there was no indication of how or when the child died.

The King County Medical Examiner's Office is scheduled to examine the skeleton today in an effort to make a positive identification.

But Police Lt. Pat Murphy said the clothing indicates that "in all probability, it is Heidi Peterson."

Sally Peterson, Heidi's mother, last saw her 4-year-old daughter last Feb. 21 as the girl and her brother Carl, then 2½, played in front of the family's modest home. Mrs. Peterson drove to the grocery store and about 15 minutes later her husband Roy stepped outside the house. He found Carl sitting on a three-wheeled toy with a long face. "Heidi go," said the boy.

Arrests

PATROL

THURSDAY — Michael Bell, 35, Columbus, speeding; Ruth S. Oney, 52, Bellville, speeding.

WEDNESDAY — Jeffrey S. Brown, 18, Cincinnati, speeding.

Police have maintained that Heidi probably was abducted.

Assistant Police Chief M. D. Wilson said the area where the bones were found was "thoroughly searched several times" after the girl disappeared. Wilson said he finds it hard to believe the bones would not have been found earlier if they had been there all along.

Thousands of volunteers had searched for Heidi. More than 250,000 posters headlined "Where is Heidi?" were printed and distributed as the search gained nationwide attention. One veteran Seattle detective said he never had seen such public response on a case.

Mrs. Peterson, told a Seattle television station Thursday night, "It looks like the story has come to an end. It's not the end we prayed for, but it looks like the end of the story."

Mrs. Peterson also said she wanted to express her thanks and those of her husband to Puget Sound area citizens "for all the help that everyone has given us over the past year."

Reds not ready with MIRVs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key defense analysts now believe the Russians, contrary to previous indications, must conduct more tests before they can deploy their first combat-ready multiple-warhead missiles, Pentagon sources report.

These analysts think that a huge new Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile was deployed earlier this month with a single warhead, not with multiple nuclear arheads which can be aimed at widely separated targets (MIRVs).

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger left the impression at a Jan. 14 news conference that the Russians had reached the significant milestone of MIRV deployment, although he did not specifically say so.

Asked then whether the Soviet Union had started deploying MIRV warheads, Schlesinger replied:

"The Soviet Union has begun its deployment of its new generation of missiles. We have confirmed evidence of the start of the deployment of the SS18, the largest of the new generation."

The defense secretary also said there were indications, but not confirmed evidence, that the Russians had begun deploying the SS19, a second new type of ICBM.

"We would expect that as these deployments start that there would be inherent in the newly-deployed missiles the MIRV capability," Schlesinger said.

But, since then, defense analysts are said to have reached their single warhead judgment about the SS18 based on study of available data, presumably gathered largely by spy satellites.

They apparently still know nothing more definite about the possible deployment of the SS19.
